DETAILED ACTION

1. Receipt is acknowledged of the "conditional" request for a RCE filed on 7/05/2005 is acceptable and a RCE has been established. An action on the RCE follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1, 2, 7-10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Conte (6,357,575).

As applied to claims 1 and 9, Conte discloses a wire or cable processing device comprising: at least one swivel-arm feeder for feeding the cable to the processing stations comprising: a swivel-arm 14 having one end mounted for swiveling movement and linear movement a gripper 4 or 5 mounted on an opposite end of said swivel-arm capable of gripping and releasing a cable-end; and an actuator 23 or 28 arranged on said swivel-arm 14 and being connected to actuate said gripper 23 or 28 (see Figs.1-4, and the discussed at col. 2, lines 52- 67, etc.,).

Limitations of claims 2, 7-8, 10 and 11 are also met by Conte (see Fig. 2, shows that the actuator is mounted on the swivel arm 19 and between the two ends).

4. Additionally, Claims 1, 2, 7-10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Viviroli et al (6,886,438).

Viviroli et al disclose a processing device having processing stations capable of processing an electrical cable comprising: a swivel-arm 4 having one end adapted to be mounted for swiveling movement and linear movement a gripper 5 mounted on an opposite end of said swivel-arm 4 capable of gripping and releasing a cable-end; and an actuator arranged on said swivel-arm P2 and being connected to actuate said gripper 5 (see Fig.1 and the discussed at col. 2, lines 19-41, etc.,).

Limitations of claims 2, 7-8, 10 and 11 are appeared to be met by Viviroli et al (see Fig. 1, shows that the actuator is mounted on the swivel arm 19 and between the two ends).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 6 and 15 as understood are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Conte or Viviroli et al in view of Tega et al (4,733,457).

Art Unit: 3729

It appears that Conte or Viviroli et al does not teach the configurations where the actuator is being mounted through an interior of the swivel arm. Tega et al teach the above feature (see Fig. 1). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ the Tega's teaching of the actuator being connected through an interior of the swivel arm onto the invention of Conte/ Viviroli et al in order to form a desired structure having the configuration as described above.

Furthermore, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to choose any desired location of the actuator including the described above since applicant has not disclosed that the actuator being connected through an interior of the swivel arm is critical, patentably distinguishing features and it appears that the invention would perform equally well with the configuration as taught by each of the prior art references

Limitation of claim 15 is also met as the above discussion.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to the rejected claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

a) Claims 16-18 are allowed for reasons from prior Office letter.

b) Claims 3-5 and 12-14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 3729

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
